WHAT IS OPEN HOUSE IBIZA?

Open House Ibiza is a free-access architecture festival. Over one weekend, buildings that are usually closed open their doors: 30 buildings, 5 municipalities.

It is the festival's first edition, and it is born from a single question: what is architecture? We inhabit it every day —at home, at work, in the street— but we rarely look at it.

It isn't answered with a speech. It is answered by opening doors.

FESTIVAL FORMAT

The festival combines different formats throughout the week, open to all audiences and free of charge:

OPEN VISIT

Direct access to the open buildings, with no prior registration.

CONFERENCES AND SYMPOSIA

Talks on architecture with professionals and experts.

GUIDED ROUTES

Journeys across the territory led by the festival volunteers.

AUDIOVISUAL SCREENINGS

Documentary pieces on the island's built heritage.

CLOSING GATHERING

A public close bringing together organisation, volunteers and community.

THREE TIMES, ONE SAME QUESTION

01 HERITAGE

The peasant house solved climate, water and life with the resources of the place before anyone else. Preserving it is not nostalgia: it is keeping the manual.

02 MODERNITY

Sert, Broner and GATEPAC did not come here to teach: they found the built proof of their own thesis. The European avant-garde recognised that architecture emerges from necessity.

03 PRESENT

Public housing, community facilities and heritage reuse answer today the most urgent version of the question: who can inhabit the island, and how. Opening it to public debate is the reason for this festival.

ORGANISATION

Open House Ibiza is organised by the Associació Cultural Nexa.
